CURING MEAT FORMULAS

CAUTIONS

1. Kill and dress carefully.
2. Cool thoroughly before curing.
3. Do not cure meat when frozen or tainted.
4. Have vessels for curing tight and clean.

CORNING BEEF

Select the cheaper cuts of beef, plate, rump, brisket, etc., preferably of fat animals. Cut into convenient sized pieces. Use 8 pounds of salt to 100 lbs. of beef. Sprinkle ¼ inch of salt over the bottom of barrel. Pack meat layers, keeping a layer of salt for the top. Let stand over night and add 4 pounds of sugar, 2 ounces of baking soda and 4 ounces of saltpeter dissolved in 1 gallon of tepid water.

Three gallons more of water should be sufficient to cover this quantity. Weight down so meat will be entirely under brine. Meat should be in brine from 28 to 40 days to secure thorough corning.

Keep in a cool place to avoid fermentation.

If brine is ropy, turn off, wash meat and add fresh brine.

DRIED BEEF

Round is usually used, the insides being considered the choice cut. Cut the round lengthwise of the grain so that the muscle fibres may be cut crosswise when sliced for table use.

Proportions:

One hundred pounds of beef, 5 pounds of salt, 3 pounds of granulated sugar and 2 ounces of saltpeter. Mix thoroughly together.

Rub meat on all surfaces with a third of the mixture and pack it in the jar. Allow to remain for three days. Take out and rub with another third of the mixture putting top pieces on the bottom. Allow to remain three days and rub on remaining mixture and let stand three days. Do not remove liquid but repack in the liquid each time.

Remove from pickle, smoke and hang in dry attic or near kitchen fire. Use any time after smoking.

BRINE-CURED SALT PORK

Rub each piece of pork with fine salt and pack closely in a barrel. Let stand over night.

Make brine using 8 pounds of salt, 2½ pounds of sugar, 2 ounces of salt peter and 4 gallons of boiling water for each 100 pounds of meat. Pour over meat when cold. Weight down to keep under brine. Allow 4 days cure for each pound in hams and shoulders and 3 days for bacon and side pieces. When cured take out, wash in luke warm water and hang in smoke house.

DRY-CURED PORK

For 100 pounds of meat use 7 pounds of salt, 2½ pounds of sugar, 2 ounces of saltpeter.

Mix the ingredients, rub one-third of mixture over meat, pack and let stand for three days. Rub with rest of mixture and pack to cure. Allow 1½ days cure for each pound, the pieces average.

CURING PORK AND MEAT TO BE SMOKED

7 pounds of salt, 3 pounds sugar, 2 ounces black pepper, 2 ounces of red pepper. Mix ingredients and rub on meat; pack and leave for 6 to 7 weeks, then smoke.

FOOD VALUE OF ALFALFA HAY

Alfalfa hay is worth at least $20 per ton when oats are worth 30 cents a bushel.

A ton of Alfalfa hay has as much food value as a ton of Bran.

With tankage selling at $2.50 per hundred, Alfalfa hay would be worth more than $40.00 per ton for feeding hogs.

A ton of Alfalfa hay has as much feeding value as 35 bushels of shelled corn.

A ton of Alfalfa has more protein than one and one-half tons of Red Clover hay.

A ton of Alfalfa contains over 200 pounds of protein.

A ton of Alfalfa contains about four pounds of Iron and is very rich in Phosphorus and Potash.

Over 60 per cent of the protein in Alfalfa hay is in the leaves so it pays to cure the hay properly.

A ton of Alfalfa hay contains over 200 pounds of protein so it would take an Oat yield of over 60 bushel to the acre to produce this same amount of protein.

A left hand side delivery rake comes about as near turning the windrows upside down as any present day machine and this is quite necessary as the leaves should be turned down with the stem or bottom side up. Be sure and save all the leaves possible.

SEPTIC TANKS

The day of the cess pool is past, and in its place there is a tight chamber known as a septic tank.

It is quite easily constructed and there are many concerns having collapsible forms that may be rented to anyone desiring to build such a tank.

Disposal of the effluent from the septic tank may be through drainage tile or into what is known as a dry well. In any case, care should be taken that the tile from the septic tank, if of the open joint variety, are not placed within 50 feet of a well.

ANIMAL NUTRITION

By

W. G. Meissner, Ames, Iowa.

Animal nutrition like plant nutrition is governed by the same physical and chemical laws. Only certain definite reactions can result from the combination of elemental substances. As the plant produces these combinations of elemental substances in the form of food products, proteins, sugars and fats,—for the maintenance of animal life, the animal in turn converts these into animal products:—growth, production (milk, eggs, work, breeding service, etc.), and fat.

Proteins produce body developments (growth and production)—they can produce no fat.

Carbohydrates (sugar and fat) furnish the "body energy"; they can produce no growth or production.

The excess of protein above body requirements to live makes more growth.

The excess of carbohydrates above body requirements to live makes reserve fat.

There are two essentials in feeding, that must be observed, if we wish to get maximum results, from the ration fed and the kind of returns we want.

1st. The nutrition balance—expressed in the Nutritive Ratio.

2nd. The mineral balance—governing balance in the blood stream.

Maximum results are had only when both are observed. A neglect of either is always at the expense of the other. The nurition balance has to do with the which the animal lives and makes his returns in production or weight—(growth and fat).
nutritive elements, proteins, sugars and fats from

The mineral balance does not furnish nutrition from which pounds of gain can be made—it has to do with the processes of digestion to enable the animal to get full value out of what he eats. The nutritive ratio, or Nutrition Balance is governed strictly by natural chemical laws, which we cannot change nor control—neither can the animal. He gets only what is there and must use it for that which it is. The mineral balance is governed, both by chemical and physical laws—neither of which is within the control of the feeder or the animal.

The application of the Nutrition Balance and the Mineral Balance by the feeder are of course purely mechanical—and the rations and the results he gets are just what they must be from the way he sets up his rations and the skill and care he takes in feeding them—and the proper judgement used in estimating, suitablity of materials and the condition and capacity of the animal. Hence, the feeder balances his ration for whatever he wants to do. For growth, work, milk, eggs, breeding service, etc., he uses a narrow ratio—that is heavier in protein—often in the ratio of 1 Pro to 5 C. H. which results in all growth or work, etc.,—and produces no fat on the animal.

To fatten the animal a much wider ratio is used up to 1 to 9 where the gain is all fat and no growth. The intermediate ratios produce, of course, the relative percentages of growth and fat, in proportion to the spread of the ratio.

It follows, that the feeder must know the value of the ration and its ratio, if he is to get the returns he wants.

This calls for analysis of his ration in order to intelligently build it for desired effect. Guess work is expensive if the guess is not correct. You can no more product milk, or eggs, or growth, from a fattening ratio, than you can fatten an animal on a milk or egg or growing ratio.

The results can be, only just what the ratio calls for.

WHITE WASH FORMULA

This formula for making white wash is recommended and used by the Bureau of Lighthouses, Department of Commerce; has received the approval of the Federal Specifications Board, and has been found by experience to answer on wood, brick, and stone nearly as well as oil paint, and is much cheaper.

Slake half a bushel of unslaked lime with boiling water, keeping it covered during the process. Strain it and add a peck of salt dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice put in boiling water and boiled to a thin paste, half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting and a pound of clear glue dissolved in warm water; mix these well together and let the mixture stand for several days. Keep the wash thus prepared in a kettle or portable furnace, and when used, put on as hot as possible with painters' or whitewash brushes.

Alfalfa hay is worth at least $20.00 per ton when oats are worth 30 cents a bushel.

A ton of Alfalfa hay has as much food value as a ton of Bran.

COMMON WHITE WASH

Slake quicklime (burned stone lime) with enough water to make a thick paste. While it is slaking add for each bushel of lime, a pint of lard or other grease and a cupful of salt. Add water slowly to the lime but do not boil it. After it is reduced to a white powder by heating, add enough water to bring the solution to a thin, creamy consistency, and strain through a piece of burlap. It is advisable to add 4 ounces of some coal-tar disinfectant to each gallon of mixture. Have all surfaces clean before applying.

SEPTIC TANKS

The day of the cess pool is past, and in its place there is a tight chamber known as a septic tank.

It is quite easily constructed and there are many concerns having collapsible forms that may be rented to anyone desiring to build such a tank.

SPRAYING APPLE TREES

There are some people who think that the spraying of fruit trees does not give good control of scab and worms, but investigation has always shown that there was some fault in the application of the material or there was an excess of rain.

For best results the spray should be put on as a fine mist and plenty of power is required for this operation. Second, the proper proportions of materials must be used. Third, there is no use of doing the first two unless this spray is put on at the right time.

Certain seasons may require more spraying than others, and for certain pests different materials must be used, but every year there are four sprays that should be applied which are as follows:

For the following applications use five quarts commercial lime sulphur or 3 ½ lbs. dry line sulphur and one pound powdered arsenate of lead in 50 gallons of water.

1. PINK SPRAY. Just before the blossom buds open. (If leaf rollers are numerous use three pounds of arsenate of lead.)

2. CALYX SPRAY. As soon as the most of the petals have fallen and before the calyx cups close.

3. THIRD SPRAY. Two to three weeks after second spray.

4. SECOND BROOD CODDLING MOTHS SPRAY. Seven or eight weeks after third spray. This application would ordinarily be made between August 5th and 15th, depending upon the season and locality. Spray all apples excepting the early summer varieties.

More complete information may be found in Circular 158 of the University of Wisconsin on "Spray Home Orchards."

The length is found in top line, the width in left-hand column—the height being taken at 10 ft. Thus, a crib 24 ft. long, 7½ ft. wide and 10 ft. high, will hold 800 bushels of ear corn, reckoning 2¼ cubic feet to hold a bushel. If not 10 ft. high, multiply by the given height and cut off right-hand figure. If above crib were only 7 ft. high, it would hold 800 x 7, equals 560 (0 bu., etc.). The same space will hold 1-4/5 times as much grain as ear corn. Thus, a crib that holds 800 bushels of ear corn will hold 800 x 1-4/5, equals 1440 bushels of gain.

TO MEASURE CORN IN CRIBS

Corn in the ear of good quality, measured when settled will hold out at 2½ cubic feet to the bushel. Inferior quality, 2⅜ to 2½ cubic feet.

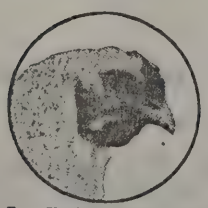
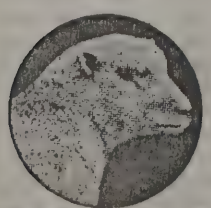
MORE MONEY WITHIN YOUR REACH BY Feeding "Alden" Brands Calcium Carbonate



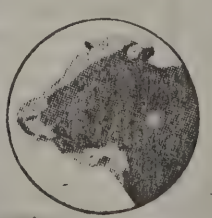
"ILCO"—Bone & Shell Builder
Authorities and poultry raisers everywhere agree that Calcium Carbonate must be supplied laying hens. Analysis proves that all but 4% of the egg shell is calcium carbonate. This mineral is absolutely necessary in the production of eggs.
In Baby Chick size, "ILCO" Bone and Shell Builder provides them with the Calcium Carbonate that they must have to grow quickly to healthy, sturdy maturity and helps them resist disease.



Calcium Carbonate For Sheep
Sheep, even more than other kinds of livestock, require added Calcium Carbonate to build structure and maintain health — to reproduce stronger and healthier lambs that grow faster, save on feeding costs and produce more wool.
Get a bag of "ILCO" or "ALDEN" brand today — get started, then you will become a satisfied customer.

See Your Local Dealer
"ILCO" and "ALDEN" Brands Calcium Carbonate are sold by most representative dealers. If you cannot secure them along with the booklet on "Scientific Feeding" methods, write the Home Office at Des Moines.

Hogs For The Market
There are definite reasons why you should feed "ILCO" or "ALDEN" Calcium Carbonate to your hogs. Hogs are fed chiefly on corn and other cereal grains; therefore no single fact in stock feeding has been more chiefly demonstrated by numerous feeding trials than that corn alone gives exceedingly poor results when fed to hogs. Ignore this fact, and you are paying one dollar ($1.00) to do the work that fifty cents (50c) would do.



Greater Profits From Beef Cattle
Here's why "ILCO" and "ALDEN" brands are best for livestock: They are 99% pure Calcium Carbonate. No other source supplies the high purity content of these which come from the famous "Alden Deposit". "ILCO" and "ALDEN" Brands Calcium Carbonate (lime flour) are milled to the fineness needed for rapid assimilation in the hurried progress of digestion. Tests show its presence in the blood stream only a few minutes after it is taken into the system of the animal. So if you want to use less feed, build bigger, stronger beef, then use either of these brands. Cost is small, profits large.
